P.O. Box 30212
Lansing, MI 48909

Dear Attorney General Cox:

I write today to express gratitude to you for involving the Fowlerville Community Schools in your Internet safety pilot program.

As we learned through the pilot program, Internet safety is a serious issue affecting our students and the dangers that exist online are a bigger problem than many parents appreciate. The content presented to both students and adults was well organized and represents areas of concern that I consider of greatest significance. It is clear that you have committed extensive resources toward creating a high quality and effective Internet safety education and outreach product. Yours is a program other states should emulate and I commend you for your dedication to this issue.

Fowlerville Community Schools is interested in hosting additional Internet safety presentations in the future and I would encourage your team to continue communications with Grace Damerow, Technology Director.

We truly feel privileged to have been involved in the development of this program and look forward to realizing the benefit your message provides students and parents throughout Michigan. Thank you again for choosing Fowlerville Schools – it has been our honor to work with you to protect our community from online dangers.

Most Sincerely,

Edward Alverson
Superintendent
